THE POOR AT CHRISTMAS.

BY PHEBE CARY.

Fond mothers, who hush on your bosoms Your bases' tender cries, And sing them to sleep in their cradles,

Proud fathers, whose children are sheltered In the home of their birth; Who see their fair heads, morn and even

Still safe by the hearth; When the merciless winds of the winter Are cruel and bold;

When even the shelterless sparrows Are crying for cold; And you listen, safe-housed, to the falling

Of the snow and the sleet, And hear on your roof-tree, all harmless. The wild tempest beat;

When you gather, a circle, unbroken, Your fireside about; And shut in your children, remember The children shut out!

Think of wanderers abroad in the darkness, The tempest, and rain; With no hearthstone ablaze for their coming, No light in the pane-

Children shivering in horrible places,

The earth for their bed; Wretched groups, huddled close in the darkness, And crying for bread! Think of orphans, and, worse, babes deserted. Whom 'twere well if the earth

To her pitying bosom had taken In the day of their birth. Ay! think of them tenderly, kindly, Poor, homeless, astray; For the sake of the holy child Jesus,

You worship to-day. By all the proud hopes that encircle Your sons brave and bright: By your love for the tender-eyed daughters, So fair in your sight.

By the blessings unmarked, and unnumbered, You hold so secure, While you are remembered in mercy, —Between 1 and 2 o'clock yesterday morning an attempt was made to break into the store and residence of Mr. John Notson, corner of Washington avenue and Parker street. The burglars first tried to force a pair of window shutters in the rear, failing in which they applied force to the panel of a door opening into a basement passage. They had succeeded in moving it, when the noise awoke Mr. Notson's daughter, and she raised a sash and frightened the burglars off.

Another Swindling Official Come to Grief.

Special Despatch to The Beening Telegraph.

New York, Dec. 24.—Henry A. Allen, keeper of the Sub-Treasury building, was arrested on a warrant issued by Commissioner Osborne on an affidavit made by Special Detective Sampson of the Treasury Department, the affidavit charging that Allen had presented false and fraudulent receipts to the Government, on which he had obtained money and appropriated it to his own use, and also with having destroyed a book in the Sub-Treasury containing a record of dis-

The charge against Allen in relation to receipts is similar to that made recently against George F. Dunning, the Superintendent of the Assay Office in the Sub-Treasury Building, it being to the effect that on various pretexts he obtained receipts from parties from whom he purchases articles necessary for the building for amounts much larger than the stipulated prices, and in transmitting the receipts to Washington obtaining the full amounts, and retaining the difference between the stipulated prices and the amounts charged for his use. It is alleged that he destroyed the books in question to hide the evidences of his guilt.

The destruction of a public record wantonly, or for the purpose of defeating or hindering the course of justice, is made a crime by statute, and punished by fine and imprisonment. Allen was held in $10,000 bail; $5000 for each offense

DR. SCHENCK'S GREAT REMEDIES

WILL NOT ONLY

CURE CONSUMPTION, BUT THEY WILL PREVENT IT.

When I assert that Consumption can be cured, I mean precisely what I say. It would be superlative foily on my part to argue that a lung once totally destroyed could be restored again. To do this would require powers equal to those by which miracles were performed. I assume no such untenable ground, but I do boldly declare that many of the cases of Consumption prenounced hopeless and incurable by the faculty can be, as mine was—cured. In the course of many years, over a very extended practice, I have frequently had opportunities of verifying the truthfulness of this assertion.

Patients have applied to me for relief when physicians and friends had abandoned all hope, and though not always successful, it has been my fortunate lot to rescue many such from what appeared to be inevitable death.

Patients have been brought to me who were afficted with violent racking coughs, heavy and exhausting night-sweats, onlist that crept over the body and enervated it, and depressed the mental faculties; with frames that were emaciated and weakened down almost to absolute prostration; with cheeks on which the hectic fever was always visible; with digestive organs inspaired, and unable to perform their natural functions properly; with loss of appetite and voice, all unfailingly indicating the presence of deep-seated wasting disease. Persons thus afflicted, and pronounced by their medical advisers to be in the last hopeless stage of Consumption, as indeed they were, have sought my counsel and my remedica. They were pitiable sights, enough to awaken the deepest sympathies of all who saw them.

Friends regarded them with mournful solicitude, and the stranger as he passed them would involuntarily exclaim:—"Alas! poor creature, he is not long for this world." For such far gone patients I have frequently been called upon to prescribe. When all other so-called remedies had failed to check the onward march of the fell destrover, than SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC, and SCHENCK'S PILMONIC SYBUP were called for, and it o prove efficacions, had UNANSWERABLE TESTIMONY of T. S. Sheldon, of New York, page 23 of my new pamphlet; of Mrs. Lanning, of Philadelphia, on same page; and of Mrs. Charles Nelli, of New York, on the succeeding page, as well as the many others that precede and follow them, and then ask yourself whether.

who can be made to believe that they are consumptive until racking cough, prostrating hemorrhages, emacated frame, hectic cheeks, wasted strength, lost appetite, and clammy night sweats declare by tokens too plain to be misunderstood that Consumption has laid fast hold and secured a firm foothold, which it is determined to maintain to the last gasp of the unhappy sufferer! Its approaches are quiet and almost imperceptible; but they are steady and sure, notwithstanding. Step by step it makes its fell way into the system, and it is only when it has secured full and complete possession that, throwing off its disguises, it presents itself in all its

"Know THYSELF" is an ancient axiom which should be deeply impressed upon every man and woman's heart, not merely in regard to the spiritual but to the physical nature also. How few there are, comparatively speaking, who have anything like a proper conception of either, and yet how vitally important it is that we should be familiar with both! Occasionally an individual is met with who has studied the wenderful construction of the human body, and who is familiar with not merely the location of the various organs, but with their functions also. Such persons, unless they with their functions also. Such persons, unless they are absolutely indifferent to their health and happiness, give heed to the warnings that nature gives.
